Several Thousand Visit Food and Progress Show At Opening on Monday

Some Forty Booths Displaying Foods, Household Appliances of all Kinds are Well Patronized on Opening Day.

VAUDEVILLE A HIT

Entertainment Program Featuring Acrobatic Dancers and Miniature Circus Enjoyed.

Several thousand people from all parts of Ulster county visited the U. P. A. annual Food and Progress Show at the Auditorium, Monday afternoon and night, opening day of the event which is bigger and better than ever in all respects.

The 40 or more booths displaying the groceries, meats, cereals, various other food supplies, household appliances of all sorts, are colorfully decorated, and appropriately show off the products they exhibit to those who do the shopping for the family.

In addition to the food show, the U. P. A. vaudeville, direct from New York city, is of first rank. Last night's show was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended the affair.

Alderman at Large John J. Schwenk officially opened the show last night, welcoming all to the Food and Progress Show. Besides the welcome spoken in behalf of the merchants and Mayor Heiselman, who is vacationing in the south, Mr. Schwenk described the show as a stimulus to trade, good not only for the provision men but for the shoppers who seek quality at conservative prices.

C. Ray Everett, treasurer of the Provisioners Association, introduced Alderman at Large Schwenk and also C. T. Bennett, president of the association, who addressed the gathering, adding to the words of welcome spoken by Mr. Schwenk.

After the official welcome the visitors passed from booth to booth, thoroughly observing the various lines of foodstuffs, etc., on display, and receiving samples from polite, courteous attendants each one of whom smiles a personal welcome and speaks a word of greeting to those who stop at the booths.

The vaudeville show, arranged by Al Skea, New York theatrical agent, through Martin J. Schleede, chairman of the entertainment committee, is one of the best stage presentations ever seen in Kingston, offering lots of fine dancing, music, excellent novelties and lots of laughs.

Fid Gordon, the comical master of ceremonies, who plays a violin in about every position one could think of, including one number he does with his teeth on the strings of the instrument, made a hit with the audience last night. Gordon made himself right at home and probably will go big for his stay in Kingston. The vaudeville program changes Thursday.

Other acts featured Janis Thompson, pretty acrobatic dancer, Billy and Dorothy Rolls, novelty dancers extraordinary, and the miniature circus, starring ponies, monkeys, and a collection of trained dogs that did all the stunts seen under the big tops.

Starting time of the vaudeville each day is 4 p. m. and 10 p. m. The doors of the food show open at 2 p. m. every afternoon this week to and including Saturday. There is no set closing time, the exhibitors being content to stay as long as the crowd.

Radio Amateur Booth

The radio amateur booth was popular at the show. Visitors were allowed to send messages through the operators, Ralph DeGraff, Robert K. Hancock and President Larmer of the local radio amateurs association, to all parts of the United States and South America. Messages will be sent out every afternoon and evening of the show.

Exhibitors are Dairyland, Consumers Fuel, Blawie Lake Ice Co., Farms Packing Company, Cobleskill Milling Co., Gleam Products, Grunewalds, Wilberts No. 2, R. T. & V. Ice Cream Co., Kingston Sign Co., Bond Bread, W. T. Reynolds, Schwenk's Bakery, Cross & Blackwell Soaps, John F. Jeike, Teitel Tea, Good Luck Food Co., R. O. Shaw, Sheldow cheese, Salzmann's Bakery, Abes street; Beecham Packing Co., Williams Bakery, Kellogg's corn flakes, Albert Ehlers, coffee, tea, rice; National Biscuit Company, Vanderlyn Battery, Raymond E. Meagher, beaters; Tudorson electrical U. P. A. favors books; F. R. Matthews Co., C. F. Mueller, needles; Radio Amateur Club, Central Hudson, Stock & Corp's Furniture, Nels Soda, Canfield Supply and Gorton Fisheries.

There are many attractive things to be seen at each and every booth. A visit to the food show is educational in the way of economy and entertainment as well, and there are culinary specialists there to give tips and hints to busy housewives as to preparation of menus, etc.

Indications are that there will be crowds at the Food Show every day and night it runs, and that on the closing day, Saturday, February 15, the exhibitors will be able to say it is a record breaker in every respect.

Two Americans Arrested In Ethiopia For Failure To Evacuate Danger Zone

By ALBERT W. WILSON (Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

Addis Ababa, Feb. 11.—Two North American missionaries who refused to leave the danger zone have been placed under arrest in southwestern Gamo province.

Crown Prince Asfa Wossen, it was learned today, has ordered their release. Lack of communications with the interior made it impossible to determine immediately whether the local chieftain who made the arrest has complied with the order.

The Rev. Harold Street of Paxton, Ill., one of the captives, has been shackled with a dog chain connecting his legs—Mrs. Street and her four children were under guard.

The other missionary, the Rev. John Trewin of Toronto, Ont., was also under arrest but not shackled.

Both missionaries are members of the Sudan Interior mission. Dr. T. A. Lambie, head of the mission in Ethiopia, said both men were well treated. Mr. Street was born in York, Neb.

The government received a letter from Mrs. Street saying her husband and the Rev. Mr. Trewin had been held since January 27.

Special Supplement in Freeman Wednesday

Wednesday's Freeman, with a special supplement, will furnish a complete list of stores participating in the Kingston Dollar Savings Days, Friday and Saturday, February 14 and 15, and readers are advised to scan it carefully to observe the bargain prices at which first class merchandise will be offered to the public on the counters of this city's most responsible business houses.

For more than a week clerks and department heads in the various establishments have been busily engaged arranging the stocks for the big sale, which is expected to be bigger and better in every respect. In bygone years, one day was set aside for "Dollar Day," the usual February event in the business circles here, but this year the merchants decided to extend the period of economy buying for the public.

With an opportunity to shop for an extra day, buyers will be able to make a thorough tour of the entire business districts, seeking the bargains advertised by the merchants who are making every effort to establish a record in offering economy and service to their patrons. Prices have been slashed to the rock bottom figure on every article, as the various advertisements will show, and extra clerks will be at the stores to serve buyers with dispatch and courtesy so that they may make the most of their shopping hours.

Two American Miners Kidnapped

Elizalat, Jalisco, Mexico, Feb. 11 (P).—A band of Mexican kidnappers fled into the mountains of northern Jalisco state today with two American mining men, seized in a surprise assault on the Ampara Mine Company office.

The bandits descended here suddenly yesterday and carried off Samuel C. Sanhueza, assistant manager of the company, operators of the Mazata mine, and Paul W. Avery, an engineer.

George H. Winter, American consul at Guadalajara, 75 miles south east of here, said he requested Mexican military authorities to withhold the governor's permission to withdraw troops from a pursuit of the bandits until ransom negotiations could be undertaken.

The kidnapper apparently had advance information of the identity of their victims, for they selected Sanchez and Avery from among several persons who were in the office at the time of the assault. They also took an undetermined amount of money.

Another American organized a rescue party, but Consul Winter said the pursuit was delayed by the kidnappers finding themselves hard pressed, kill the victims.

Sanchez was believed to have come here from California, and Avery's home address was given as St. Louis.

Baby Gains Today

Oakland, Calif., Feb. 11 (P).—Wealthy baby Nancy Lee Vogt, 12 days ago, continued "good" today, physicians reported. Jaszadis' deterioration seems to clear, nurses said, and the 101 showed increasing evidence of growth toward normal size.

Albany, Feb. 11.—(Special)—The state senate today passed Ogden J. Ross' measure creating a temporary state commission to assist the federal government in a long-range program of flood control.

Although no appropriation has been specified it is expected that several thousands dollars will be authorized for this work after the passage of the budget.

Senator Deyo of Binghamton urged unanimous passage on behalf of counties comprising the southern tier that last July suffered from floods. Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston joined in favor of the measure.

Crime Acts Approved.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 11 (P).—The New York legislature pushed forward today in its drive against organized crime as the Senate gave swift approval to five more measures.

At the same time the Senate and Assembly each definitely scrapped an anti-crime proposal. Both are minor.

The bills approved would:

Make permissive, instead of mandatory, the additional penalties for the commission or attempted commission of a crime while armed.

Provide a uniform law to secure attendance of witnesses from within and without the state in criminal proceedings.

Require investigation by local police authorities of all applications to carry firearms.

Provide for a uniform criminal extradition act.

Authorize the commissioner of correction to aid in erection of suitable buildings for accommodating inmates.

The Senate action today increased to 30 the number of bills approved in that house, most of them recommended by Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Tax Program Viewed

Meanwhile the public scrutinized at rival hearings in the New York legislature today the tax program with which Governor Herbert H. Lehman expects to raise sufficient funds to meet his $308,911,831 budget.

The hearings, as was the case a week ago when the budget proposals were discussed, were before committees of the Republican-controlled Assembly and the Democratic-supervised Senate.

Coincident with the action the governor transmitted to the legislature a supplemental budget recommending additional appropriations of $244,582,589, covering items accumulated since the original $308,667,000 document was submitted four weeks ago.

The appropriations will not necessitate additional taxes, inasmuch as the governor proposes the money be taken from the surplus of $1,567,322 which he predicts will exist in June, 1937. This would reduce that amount to $1,322,738.

Meantime the Senate moved to the order of final passage four bills carrying out the governor's original budget proposals and promised a "held day" for debate early next week. Republican members are expected to attack many of the proposals.

In the Assembly, the powerful Ways and Means Committee is still studying the budget in an effort to cut it out by at least $16,000,000 so as to enable them to ask repeal of one cent of the two cents a gallon emergency gasoline tax.

The biggest item in the supplemental budget submitted by the governor is $122,701.58 for maintenance and operation of various state departments.

$16,000 is asked for the Reconstruction Home for Crippled Children at West Havenstraw, $16,000 for repairing the Newark State School and $8,500 to cover emergency expenses in connection with the southern New York flood of last July.

Under the classification of personal service, the governor recommended $6,600 for nursing and domestic attendance at the Reconstruction Home at West Havenstraw.

An item of $6,500 is included for minor additions at Great Meadow and Warwick prisons.

Supreme Court Voting

Washington, Feb. 11 (P).—Supreme court justices voted unanimously in 102 of the 121 decisions made public during the current term. This was a unanimity rating of 84 per cent. In the 19 dissentents there were ten 6-3 decisions, five 5-4 decisions and two each of the 7-2 and 4-1 combinations. Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo, winning or losing, voted together in every of the 121 cases.

Complaint Hearing Postponed

New York, Feb. 11 (P).—Hearing on the American Newspaper Guild's application for a federal court order against regional officers of the National Labor Relations Board was adjourned by agreement today until February 18.

At the Board of Public Works meeting in the city hall Monday night, Commissioner Bernard V. Commissioner Roach presented to the board a petition signed by 783 citizens asking for the reinstatement of Mr. Crook.

Commissioner Roach spoke in favor of Mr. Crook as to his service, calling attention to notations on the list of signatures complimenting him on the way he did his job. "Mr. Crook has served the city for more than 15 years," said the commissioner, "and recently remodeled his truck to conform to the specifications of the city for garbage collecting apparatus."

"So far the man employed in Mr. Crook's place has received no pay," Commissioner Roach continued. "This is so because Mr. Roach has refused to sign the pay check, contending that Mr. Crook should be reinstated. Commissioner Roach holds that the Board of Public Works should have been notified by Dr. Clarke of his intention to discharge Mr. Crook, which was not done."

Traditional Tumbler

Montgomery, Ala.—H. H. Houk, chief engineer of the Alabama highway department, banged away scientifically today at the biblical warning against building houses on sand.

"Record Yield" of Corn Per Acre

Lafayette, Ind. (AP)—A record yield per acre of corn has just been harvested by Purdue university on its experimental farm, demonstrating to farmers once again the benefits of a planned program of fertilization.

Land on the Jennings county experiment field—an expanse of 800-000 acres in southeastern Indiana—which had been treated with lime, manure, application of lime on the clover sod, and fertilized with a phosphate-potash fertilizer, yielded 120.7 bushels of corn per acre.

of which 97 per cent was sound and marketable.

The highest yield in the 15 years of the farm's operation, it is being hailed by Purdue as a great victory for scientific farming.

The corn was grown on the same type of soil on which A. C. Brown of Ripley county, Indiana, produced an official five-acre yield of 143.4 bushels to win the state's five-acre contest.

Going to town with Luckies A LIGHT SMOKE of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

New Sound Effects From Telescope

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—A sound telescope, which will give new voices to screen stars and new sound effects, was described today by Robert R. Glen, English inventor.

Actors may have voices of Edam cheese (an extra-unction tone), of brass, granite, oak, tar-paper, old motor tires or of $51 other substances, by the aid of the voice telescope.

The substances named literally are part of the tone modulation apparatus. They are the inner linings of certain resonating parts of the telescope. They imitate and modify the natural tone controls of the human ear and the frontal sinuses.

The telescope is shaped like flat spy-glass, and telescopes in similar manner. It comprises three chambers. Its two end chambers contain 197 varieties of inner lines, exchangeable at will, from use of only one of them to any number needed for a difficult voice.

The middle chamber is a space used to adjust the distance between the modulating end chambers.

Edam cheese, Glen said, has a mellow, unctuous effect. A metal screen lining sharpens the sound of the voice. Copper baffles deepen the tone. Balsam wood absorbs some of the unpleasantness of screechy tones.

Pitch pine or live oak, lining the input end of the telescope, are good for voices lacking penetration. These voices have to be stepped up in the outgoing chamber of the telescopes with linings of some other substance. Sometimes granite is used.

Tar-paper has a damping effect, reducing strident qualities.

Ice Too Thick To Harvest

Forty men have already stored 7,500 tons of ice in the ice house of the Borden Farm Products Co. plant at Burnside. When the work started the ice was 15 inches thick, but during the severe weather it increased to 22 inches, too large to handle.

Work was suspended till 14 inch ice had formed on the cut-over portion of the pond. Ice ten inches thick has already formed for a third cutting. The plant houses 9,000 tons.

TVA Breaks Record

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—TVA has broken a record. It was marked down today as the "New Deal" test case which has taken the longest time for the Supreme Court to decide. Next Monday will be the earliest the nine Justices can announce their ruling on the question whether the Tennessee Valley Power program is constitutional. That will be 52 days after the case was argued. Other new deal cases have required from 20 to 34 days.

Abandonment Cases In County Court

County Judge Frederick G. Traver, held an adjourned term of county court Monday afternoon but the only matters to come up were two abandonment cases, both of which were continued until the opening day of the April term. The regular January trial term of county court was adjourned until Monday in order that the court might act on the Dixon Uier and Michael O'Rourke cases if they were not disposed of in supreme court prior to the convening of county court.

Uier and O'Rourke were returned from Clinton State Prison for a correction of the record under which they were sentenced to prison. When they refused to consent to a correction of their record of conviction which had taken place in supreme court, Judge Traver at that time adjourned county court until February 10 in order that a jury could be drawn and the lads put to trial if they had a change of mind in the meantime and decided not to stand for a correction of their record of conviction last Friday before Justice Schirick of the supreme court before whom they were taken.

However since they stuck to their promise and did consent to the correction of the record there was nothing for county court to consider in their cases Monday. Both lads will be returned to Clinton State Prison to complete their original sentence which was imposed by Justice Staley about four years ago.

John Moore, a silk weaver from Paterson, N. J., was arraigned under Section 480 of the Penal Law, an abandonment charge. He was arrested in New Jersey but waived extradition and came willingly back to New York state. He has been in jail since because of failure to secure bail. District Attorney Cleon B. Murray stated that since Moore could not provide bail he was willing to give him a chance to return to work and pay something toward the support of his wife and family. So long as Moore remained in jail he was a public charge and there was no hope of getting assistance for his family. Mr. Murray said that Mrs. Moore was willing to have the husband paroled and give him an opportunity to seek work again. Moore in court said strikes in Paterson had made the securing of work difficult but he would attempt to get a job and pay his wife some money. He has two children.

Righfest deputies, however, indicated they would attack the treaty with even socialist acceptance of the pact dependent on assurances that France would not be obliged to go to war automatically if Russia were attacked.

The pact, a virtual military alliance reuniting the World War allies, promises France the aid of the great Soviet army in the event of a Nazi attack.

Similarly, France's blue-clad pols would cross the Rhine to fight if Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler sent his troops against Russia.

At the first sign of "danger of aggression" by a European nation, the two powers agree to consult each other immediately.

They pledge themselves to seek a quick definition of the aggressor by the League of Nations Council, but if that group fails to agree they will immediately go to war to assist the nation attacked.

Robert Pritchard of Long Island also appeared in court on a non-support charge. His wife sought an increase of allowance on the grounds her son needed medical care. After a conference the matter was adjourned until April.

Court adjourned to chambers.

GOOD GARDENING

By using a hotbed, the gardener can be starting on the fruits of his labor about two weeks before he could otherwise. Build a small box-like frame with a glass cover. Put fresh manure on the ground extending two feet beyond the frame in each direction. On top of the manure put two inches of planting soil. Put the frame over this. The heat evolved warms the soil, so the plants develop in temperature considerably warmer than in open ground. This is particularly true in the winter nights. Use a thermometer in the soil, wait until it registers a maximum heat and then decline for a few days. When it reaches 54 degrees on the open grade, go ahead with your planting.

Soviet Charge Troop Border Concentration

Moscow, Feb. 11 (P)—A Soviet news dispatch from Urga (Ulan Bator Khot), outer Mongolia, reported today that Japanese and Manchukuoan troops were being concentrated along the "new and more serious provocations."

The eastern border of Russia, where it touches Manchukuo, has been the scene of recent months of repeated clashes with numerous casualties.

Promier Gendun of Mongolia recently returned to Urga after conferring with Soviet officials in Moscow. While here, he declared in a newspaper interview that the Mongolians expect the Soviet union to come to their assistance in case they are the victims of aggression.

A dispatch today telling of a new border fight said six truckloads of Japanese and Manchukuoan soldiers penetrated six miles into Mongolia near Bulla Dersu Sunday.

The dispatch stated: "Japanese militarists are continually provoking border clashes. Invading the territory of Mongolian people republic sometimes as much as 15 miles, attacking border posts, and destroying frontier signs."

Japanese reports that 600 Mongolian soldiers attacked a Japanese border detachment Saturday, resulting in a clash in which both sides lost heavily, were termed by Mongolian authorities "pure invention."

Pact With Soviet Debated in France

Paris, Feb. 11 (P)—France's mutual assistance treaty with Soviet Russia, intended to protect the two nations against any German attack, was called up for debate in the Chamber of Deputies today on the question of its ratification.

Approval of the pact was considered generally a foregone conclusion, and Marshal Mikhail Toukhatchevsky of the Soviet army was already discussing its application in army terms with French War Minister Louis Félix Maurin.

Righthest deputies, however, indicated they would attack the treaty with even socialist acceptance of the pact dependent on assurances that France would not be obliged to go to war automatically if Russia were attacked.

The pact, a virtual military alliance reuniting the World War allies,

PARTY LABELS

Political babies are getting badly mixed. There are probably more of them in strange cradles this year than ever before in American history. Arthur Krock writes in the New York Times:

How long will the acceptance of the misleading labels continue to mock the plain fact that there is a wide and growing realignment of political groups in this country, to the point where former Republicans are in the van of the radicalism of a "Democratic" administration, enrolled Republicans are making obeisances to the Democratic platform of 1932, and Democrats are calling each other Socialists, Communists and plutocrats?

Shall we ever get back to the point where the public knew just what was meant when any man was called a Republican or Democrat? Or shall we lose our historic party names in the confusion, and emerge soon with a new political nomenclature? A two-party division of voters in any country naturally gives "conservatives" and "liberal," and the British countries frankly use these terms. We may yet come to it. If voters get shaken around so that they fall roughly into the groups where they logically belong. At present we are trying to hold four or five political parties under two names.

THEATER UNDER CANVAS

One of the most successful stage productions of New York's current season is going on the road in the spring, but it will be performed like a circus, under a big tent. It seems that "Jumbo," which is the play in question, would have to show in municipal auditoriums—nothing else being large enough—and rebuilding a lot of them for it would eat up any profits which might otherwise be expected. Hence the big top of canvas.

A newspaper critic who isn't often swept off his feet with enthusiasm writes that this combination of circus, drama and music, "is one of the most remarkable productions in the history of the nation." It combines an interesting story and theatrical skill with the lavishness of the circus. It is said to sparkle with stars and personality. All this sounds like something new in the way of entertainment. It ought to please the home folks in the outlying areas as it has pleased visitors to New York. And how will the regular circus people like it?

WPA MONEY FOR CONVENTIONS

Political parties may fight, but Uncle Sam is nonpartisan. This symbolic old Yankee stands above the battle even in a red-hot campaign year. Thus the WPA, through which the federal government under a Democratic administration administers work relief, is planning to do the job of putting public halls in Philadelphia and Cleveland in shape for the two big political conventions next summer. It expects to treat them alike, spending about $100,000 on each. The money will go for internal rearrangements and decorations and widening of the traffic approaches outside. Local labor in both cases will do the work, presumably without regard to party affiliations.

This seems fair and friendly enough. But isn't the WPA administrator setting a precedent on which political organizations may base demands for regular help hereafter? Doesn't this amount to a political dole? And won't the Socialists and any new party that may be organized demand similar aid?

WEATHER RELATIVITY

It all depends on your point of view. The January weather struck most of us as being pretty cold. If we had been living in Antarctica we wouldn't have thought so. There, when the thermometer hit zero, it was the signal for shedding clothes and doing a war dance, unbuttoned out to the waist. Cold for Little American bottoms at forty below.

Now, however, temperatures will reach the nineties, and we shall all shiver. All of us, that is, except possible visitors from the Danakil country of Ethiopia. There the thermometer has been known to go as high as 108 degrees. Some day a scientist will find a way of bottling up weather. Then the Ethiopian explorer can take along carboys of Antarctic weather, and Admiral Byrd will bring Death Valley extract. That would settle all our weather troubles expect one: What to complain about if we can no longer complain about the weather.

FOUR ENGLISH GIRLS

That America is the land of opportunity for the humbly born is an old story. That England is one, too, is less well known. This makes the story of the four Macdonald sisters interesting. They were daughters of a poor Methodist minister, and in England Methodists do not have the prestige that attaches to the Church of England. Yet one girl married Sir Edward Poynter, a well-known painter; another married the even more famous artist, Burne-Jones; the third became Rudyard Kipling's mother, and the fourth the mother of the English prime minister, Stanley Baldwin.

Evidently the United States is not the only country where personality counts, and not merely position.

MORE MENTAL CASES CURED

Some months ago the statement was made that if the number of patients with mental ailments continued to increase at its present rate, one-half of the world's population would be confined to mental hospitals with the other half supporting them there. Now there is no question but that mental ailments are actually increasing, but not perhaps as rapidly as it is thought because practically all cases are known now and receiving treatment.

Further there are cases admitted to mental hospitals which formerly were being cared for at home. These cases are sent to hospital now because hospital treatment is considered best by the family, and of course many families are now unable to carry the financial burden of having the patient cared for at home. Our mental specialists now believe however that the number of mental cases may be actually reduced in the coming years. One of the first methods of treatment to give results was what is called occupational therapy. This treatment consists in having the patient do some form of work during which time, of course, he doesn't think about himself, and by doing some actual or useful work loses some of his inferiority complex and may thus be enabled to go back and take his place at work or business.

So successful has occupational therapy become in the treatment of mental ailments that Drs. C. C. Burlingame and Carl Phillip Wagner, Hartford, Conn., report that they have gone beyond the simple occupations in which the patients were allowed to engage, and have actually started a school or institution with the selected patients and have made the surroundings just as much like an ordinary school as possible. As you know mental patients have as much brains as those of us outside the institution, but they are "inside" the institution because they can't adjust themselves to or get along with other people.

The treatment consists in having all doctors, nurses, teachers, attendants treating the patients as if they were normal. There is a daily program requiring regular hours of study in what the patient likes or may need—personal and correspondence instruction.

As this method enables the patient to mix more with normal people he is gradually made ready to go back and mix entirely with those who are normal.

THE BOOMERANG CLUE
BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

AGATHA CHRISTIE, famous author and Bobby Jones have one共同 candidate for the murderer of Alexander McMichael—or Alan Carton as Frank is accustomed to call him. The boomerang is too frank and charming to have done it. Another is Dr. Nicholson who runs a drug store in the neighborhood and is a good, strong Bobby's dependance. On Friday night Bobby discovered that his chauffeur has explored Nicholson's stores and found there a frightened woman whose face was that on a photograph in the dead man's pocket.

"When did you meet him?"
"He came to dinner."
She described the dinner party and Dr. Nicholson's insistent dwelling on the details of her "accident."
"I felt he was suspicious," she added up.

"It's certainly queer his going into details like that," said Bobby. "What do you think is at the bottom of all this business, Frankie?"

"Well, I'm beginning to think that your suggestion of a dope gang isn't such a bad guess after all."

"With Dr. Nicholson as the head of the gang?"

"Yes. This nursing home business would be a very good cloak for that sort of thing."

"That seems plausible enough," agreed Bobby.

"I haven't told you yet about Henry Bassington-French."

Bobby listened attentively to her description of her host's idiosyncrasies. "His wife doesn't suspect?"

"I'm sure she doesn't."

"What is she like? Intelligent?"

"I never thought exactly No. I suppose she isn't very and yet in some ways she seems quite shrewd. A frank, pleasant woman."

"And our Bassington-French?"

"There I'm puzzled," said Frankie slowly. "Do you think Bobby, that just possibly we might be all wrong about him?"

"Nonsense!" said Bobby. "We worked it all out and decided that he must be the villain of the piece."

"Because of the photograph?"

"Because of the photograph." No one else could have changed that photograph for the other.

"I know," said Frankie. "But that one incident is all that we have against him."

Bobby looked at her coldly. "Did you say that he had failed for you, or that you had fallen for him?" he inquired politely.

"Oh, yes."

"I'd half thought of asking you if you'd give me a lift to town," said Roger carelessly.

Frankie paused for an infinitesimal second before her answer—given with an apparent readiness.

"Why, of course," she said.

"But on second thought I don't think I will go up to-day," went on Roger. "Henry's looking even older from the telephone."

"Yes, but I shall take Hawkins. I've got some shopping to do as well and it's a nuisance if you're driving yourself—you can't leave the car anywhere."

"Yes, of course."

He said no more, but when the car came around, Bobby at the wheel very stiff and correct of demeanor, he came out on the doorstep to see them people—what did you say their name was?"

"I know," said Frankie.

"Are you driving yourself?" asked Roger casually as they moved away from the telephone.

"Yes, but I shall take Hawkins. I've got some shopping to do as well and it's a nuisance if you're driving yourself—you can't leave the car anywhere."

"Good-bye," said Frankie.

Under the circumstances she did not think of holding out a hand, but Roger took hers and held it a minute.

"You are coming back?" he said with curious insistence.

Frankie laughed. "Of course, I only meant good-bye till this evening."

"Don't have any more accidents."

"I'll let Hawkins drive if you like."

She sprang in beside Bobby, who touched her cap. The car moved off down the drive. Roger still standing on the steps looking after it.

"Bobby," said Frankie, "do you think it possible that Roger might fall for her?"

"Has he?" inquired Bobby.

"Well, I just wondered."

"I expect you know the symptoms pretty well," said Bobby. But he spoke absently.

Frankie shot him a glance. "Has anything—happened?" she asked.

"Yes, it has. Frankie, I've found the original of the photograph."

"You mean—the one—the one you talked so much about—the one that was in the dead man's pocket?"

"Yes."

"Bobby! I've got a few things to tell you, but nothing to this. Where did you find her?"

Bobby jerked his head back over his shoulder. "In Dr. Nicholson's nursing home."

"Tell me."

Carefully and methodiously Bobby described the events of the previous night. Frankie listened breathlessly.

"Then we are on to right track," she said.

"And Dr. Nicholson is mixed up in all this! Bobby, I'm afraid of that man."

"What is he like?"

"Oh! big and forceful—and he watches you. Very intently behind glasses. And you feel he knows all about you."

Salem, N. J., Feb. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Marguerite Fox Dolbow, 29-year-old former school teacher, convicted with her boyhood sweetheart of murdering her husband, faced today the prospect of being the first woman to die in the electric chair in New Jersey.

The chestnut-haired widow and her reputed lover, Norman Driscoll, husky, 36-year-old farmer, will be taken to New Jersey's death house in Trenton tomorrow, to await execution, set for the week of March 15, for the axe slaying of Harry Y. Dolbow.

In the death house the pair will join Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted kidnap-slayer of the Lindbergh baby.

Ten men and two women convicted Mrs. Dolbow and Driscoll last night in Salem county's century-old court house and Judge Frank F. Neutze immediately pronounced the mandatory death sentence.

The trial began January 27. The state introduced testimony to show Mrs. Dolbow and Driscoll carried on a clandestine love affair for months, during which they plotted Dolbow's death.

He was slain the night of August 2, last, in the barnyard of his Middletown township farm. The state contended Driscoll struck the fatal blow with a farm harrow axle, then hid the body in the barn while Mrs. Dolbow lighted the way with a flashlight.

Would Synchronize

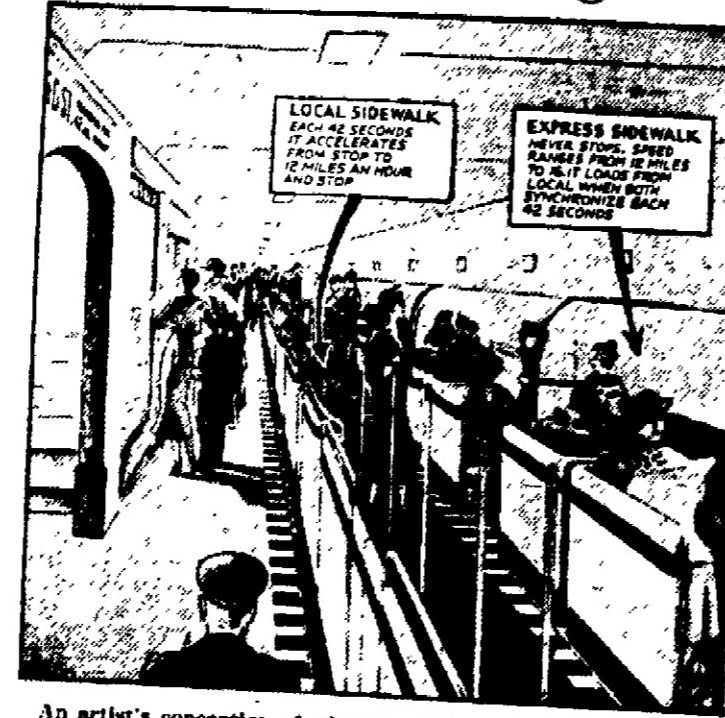

Electric energy which swings to and fro like a pendulum makes the express walk possible. The local would move from stop to nearly 12 miles an hour and stop again every 42 seconds.

Alongside it the rushing express, averaging nearly 15 miles an hour, would travel at swinging speeds, ranging from 16 miles down to 12½. Its slow speed would synchronize with the fast motion of the local alongside.

But this starting and stopping, speeding and slowing would cost little extra power, through the pendulum swing, or interchange of kinetic energy of the platforms while speeds are changing.

Sends On Express

Automatic gates would permit passengers to enter and leave the local

An artist's conception of what the "biway" would look like in operation. Passengers would step from the stationary platform to the "local" and then when the latter had gained sufficient speed to synchronize they approached and reached their destination.

Central Station Control

The walks would be in sections, articulated like streamlined trains. Stationary motors underneath the walks would drive them. The adhesion driving method would be used, that is, the motors would have wheels fixed on their heads, whose friction would push an endless rail bolted to the bottom of the platform.

A central station, Mr. Storer says, could control this drive to speed up or slow down the walks to meet traffic conditions. Present jams of passengers would be eliminated, he thinks, because there would be so many more places for entry and exit.

Emergency buttons would stop the system in case of trouble.

Farm Conference Brings Out the Facts About Ulster County

A special committee met at the Home Bureau office last Friday to study the agricultural situation in Ulster county and develop a long-time program for its improvement. Because of the absence of C. D. Mond, president of the Farm Bureau, Manager Albert Kurdt presided. L. Cunningham of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Cornell was present and was asked to review the material he had prepared concerning Ulster county. This brought up some unusually interesting information.

Most of the data presented was based on census figures. It showed that 56 per cent of the population of Ulster county is rural, of which 35 per cent, or well over half of the rural persons, do not live on farms. The county is credited with 3,630 farms, but this includes any rural property of over three acres. Thirty-six per cent of the farms are on dirt roads compared with 38 per cent in the state and 54 per cent have electric lights compared with 34 per cent in the state.

Over a period of 55 years there have been tremendous changes in the type of agriculture. The number of farms during this period have increased most in the townships of Marlborough and Lloyd and decreased most in Shandaken, Deerpark, Woodstock, Hurley and Olive. The fruit growing industry developed by leaps and bounds during this long period as did poultry keeping. The number of dairy cattle remained about the same with a slight trend downward, but between 1920 and 1935, the trend has been upward.

Such crops as rye have almost disappeared from our farms and all grain crops have been reduced from over 50,000 acres in 1880 to about 6,000 acres in 1935. In 1880 Ulster county produced over 20 tons of maple sugar and for last year the census report gives an credit for only one-tenth of a ton. Maple syrup did not show quite such a drastic decline.

Swine, sheep and horses are less important to Ulster county as a whole. In 1935 we had only 10 per cent as many sheep and swine as there were 50 years ago. The live-stock industry had distinctly developed toward commercial poultry stock and less but larger dairy herds. Pork raising has been gradually switching over to apple production and away from peats and mushies.

The committee carefully discussed all the factors presented. This took up all of the time so it is planned to have another meeting in the near future to discuss the development of a long-time agricultural program.

These present at the meeting last Friday were Mrs. M. A. Warren and Pratt Boile representing the 4-H Club directors; Mrs. H. A. Lewis and Mrs. Ray LeFevere, the Home Bureau; Fred DuBois, the Farm Bureau board of directors; Frank Gaffey, John Miller and C. L. Allen, representing the Farm Bureau fruit, poultry and dairy committees. Raymond DuBois represented both the Holstein Club and 4-H Club and L. C. Barnes represented the Ulster County Pomona Grange. In addition to the above, Miss Caroline Morton, Miss Everie Parsons, Albert Kurdt, and W. J. Clark were present.

CAVE-DWELLERS' RETREAT FOUNDED BY SPANISH PRIEST

Alcante Spain (AP)—A huge prehistoric cavern, apparently once inhabited by primitive men, has been discovered near here by Father Jose Belda, acted as an archeologist.

The cavern contains extensive galleries at a depth of about 300 feet at the end of which is an enormous chamber with many signs of habitation. In the cavern is a precipice estimated to be several hundred feet deep in which there is a large lake.

Light filters to every part of the galleries and cavern through crevices.

In the cavern were found rude huts and quantities of ashes. Hundreds of bell shaped vases indicated the sit of an ancient pottery.

SCIENTIFIC REPORT

FAVORS BRAIN

Relieves Common Constipation Safely

Read this statement, taken from an article in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, pages 122-124, Nov., 1932:

"The inclusion in the diet of a small portion of bran . . . would seem a very practical way of getting fiber which is not likely to be digested. This bran has the additional advantage of furnishing a considerable amount of vitamin B and of readily available iron."

Exhaustive tests, over a period of five years, have proved Kellogg's All-Bran to be a safe, effective way to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" or fiber in meals. It is accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods for this purpose.

You will enjoy this pleasant way to prevent the dangers of constipation. You can eat Kellogg's All-Bran as a cereal with milk or cream. Or cook into delicious breads and muffins.

Usually two tablespoonsfuls of bran daily are enough to protect your family from common constipation."

Serve All-Bran regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TIPS ON CONTRACT

BY TOM O'NEIL

Two Kings Wrong

When a defender holds two kings which cannot be captured by finesse, what is a declarer to do if he needs every trick but one to make his contract? The answer at times is: Force the defender to win with one king and lead away from the other.

In order to do that, it is necessary, usually, to eliminate all cards of two suits from the hands of the contracting partnership. In illustration:

Over South's opening bid of one club, West offered one no trump. North rained to two clubs and East put in an offer of two hearts. South bid three hearts to yell to North that he had a real hand and North went to four clubs. South bid little slam and West doubled.

West led the King of hearts. The declarer noted that if East had the club King and the diamond King, all the tricks could be taken by finesse; if East had either King, little slam could be made by one successful finesse. But suppose West had both Kings, as he should have from his no trump bid!

Taking the first trick with the heart ace, North, the declarer, led a club. East showed out, proving the club King was West. A course to success was now apparent even if the diamond King should be West.

The club was won with the ace South. The two top spades were played. A spade was ruffed North, a heart ruffed South, another spade trumped North and another heart ruffed South.

All the hearts and all the spades thereby were eliminated from the North and South hands. North had left three diamonds to the queen and two clubs. South had left the ace-jack of diamonds and three clubs. West had the club King, three diamonds to the King and a lone heart.

A club lead from South put West in with the King. A diamond return would permit the declarer to make two diamond tricks. A heart return would be trumped North and the jack of diamonds would be discarded South.

And so the declarer lost only on trick, the trump King.

PUZZLES OF PERSONALITY

STUDY THIS MYSTERY OF ATTRACTIVENESS

Isn't it amazing sometimes to see the cleverest girl in the room neglected for a fluffy, lazy, rather silly little thing? It sets you pondering on the mystery of the masculine intellect.

That's what Sue is thinking to herself as she lugs her own chair half across the room to join the group that seems to be having the best time.

Sue is the salt of the earth, good kind, intelligent, industrious. Why should silly parasites like Imogene get all the approval? Sometimes she feels like cutting loose and spending her money on giddy clothes and her time on coquettish arts.

Well, Sue, don't be right off the deep end! Turn to page 10 of our all the discernable parts of Imogene's personality. Maybe the men are attracted to Imogene, not because she is silly and weak and soft, but in spite of it?

Isn't she a certain feminine charm, good-nature, healthiness? Why not try to acquire those yourself, instead of trying to copy Imogene?

MODES OF THE MOMENT

A printed jacket frock goes to dinner.
Liane Merlin

Designers of the new styles are strong for prints, not only in dressy frocks for daytime but also in formal and semi-formal modes for spring.

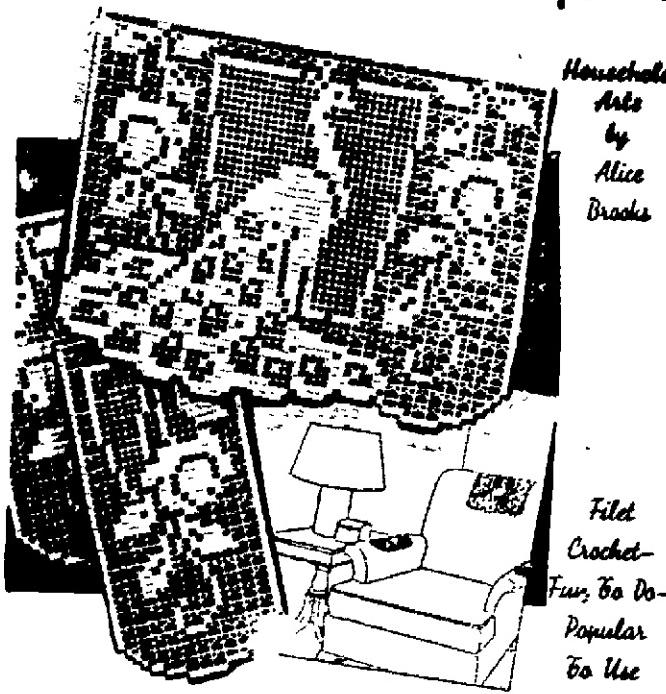

Floral prints in medium sized patterns predominate—some vivid, others in two-toned effects or combinations of black, brown or navy with white.

A trimming note of importance in the new season fashions is the use of applied flowers. They are cut out of the printed fabric and smartly serve as neckline or bodice embellishment or for trimming an accompanying jacket or cape of sheer fabric in plain color.

The charming jacket-frock sketched above uses a brown printed silk in flower pattern and combines it with plain brown marquisette for unusually beautiful sheer effect over the low back decolletage and shoulders. Flowers cut from the print are applied on the marquisette in effective manner. The high and slashed front neckline uses two-toned trimming and ties with a self-cord.

Its accompanying jacket of the printed fabric is waist-length with elbow sleeves—a new style note in latest semi-formals for spring.

TOTS' PANTIE-FROCK EASY TO MAKE USING MARIAN MARTIN SEW CHART

PATTERN 3773

Isn't this just the sort of demure frock a small miss from two to ten should wear? It seemed so to Marian Martin, the designer, who kept its lines just as simple, plain and youthfully smart as she knew how. Nice if made up now in chiffon, it bears repeating in broadcloth, plique or dotted swiss for wear throughout the spring and summer. Any youngster will love the prettily scalloped ruff that calls for bright, shiny buttons as accent. A little elastic banding for the sleeves will make them puff, or, without this, they're free to bare. Also important are the panties which are included with pattern 3773; a briefly snug pair that slip on or off in a jiffy, and are easy to make. Complete illustrated Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 3773 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric.

SWEDES RESIST CENSUS ON BIRTH RATE PROBLEM

Stockholm (AP)—Blushes and grumblings are forthcoming from Swedish householders because the government is taking an extraordinary census as an upshot of Europe created by a book offering statistical proof that within two generations the birth-rate of Sweden will sink to less than one half the present figure.

The claim, advanced by Professor G. Myrdahl, social economist, led the government to appoint a huge commission which is now gathering the vital facts of the question.

Householders are asked 35 questions, many of them intimately personal, with the threat of a heavy fine for refusal to answer all thirty-five.

Continuing through the night, this powerful police-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—sores irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing helps break congestion.

A. men, says Martin Schleede, chairman of the entertainment and speakers committee. Mr. Schleede and Senator Ford are personal friends. This is the only reason the westerner is making a special journey to Golden Rule Inn tomorrow.

Senator Ford feels proud to be able to present the senator who refused several invitations to big social events in Michigan to be with the U. P. A. men for Lincoln's Birthday.

In addition to the speaking program, there will be a sparkling vaudeville show, featuring Aida, dancer of the Casino de Paris; Patsy Vernon in sophisticated songs and sayings; and Eddie Clarke in a "barrel of laughs."

Doctor Tells Death of 12-Ounce Baby

Philadelphia, Feb. 11 (AP)—Dr. R. Lenox Dick announced that Alice Elizabeth Marta, eight-day-old girl who weighed 12 ounces at birth, died today, a few hours after being placed in a regulation incubator.

She had been kept alive eight days by home treatment.

Physicians credited the heroic efforts of Mrs. Clara Robinson, a practical nurse, for constructing a makeshift "incubator" from a cardboard box in which the child lived for a week before regulation incubation was assured. Mrs. Robinson also fed the baby with a medicine dropper, every hour and half since birth.

The birth became known last night as Dr. Dick, the attending physician, and Dr. Ernest L. Norme, a specialist, asked for aid for the nurse and the baby's family.

Both physicians stressed the fact that the baby was born at home and cared for there, by a practical nurse who had never before handled a premature birth case.

The child measured a little over seven inches in height.

Agudo Discharged From Custody Here

County Judge Frederick G. Traver has signed an order discharging from custody Raymond Agudo of Middlebury town, and granting compensation at the rate of $3 per day for nine days. Agudo was held in the county jail for nine days as a material witness in the robbery case involving Prudencio and Jose Gonzalez.

The Gonzalez boys are being held for trial in April on a charge of robbery at a state highway construction camp at Herkshorion several years ago when Minnewaska Trail was being built. It is charged that the construction camp was stuck up by highwaymen one night and several of the workmen robbed of large sums of money. In some instances the money taken represented the life savings of Spaniards who were following construction work about the country.

Following the robbery an extensive search was made for the highwaymen and after months the Gonzalez boys were apprehended and brought back to answer to an indictment. They pleaded not guilty and their case was set down for April. Agudo was brought to Kingston in January when it was anticipated the trial would be held and kept here as a material and necessary witness. When the trial went over to April and it was learned his wife was ill in Middletown he was permitted to return home.

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. A. SAWYER

Time Is Eastern Standard.

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—Ed Wynn's broadcast comeback, slated to begin Thursday night, brings forward a "new" straight man. It is John S. Young, most of whose announcing career has been devoted to the more serious view of microphone speaking. Because Wynn is to be on CBS rather than NBC, where all of his previous radio life has been spent, he had to forego the use of Graham McNamee as his foil. A long period of auditions finally centered on Young, who is resigning his post as announced at NBC to become a free lance.

Young has been with NBC nine years, going to that network from WZN, Springfield, Mass.

One of the few times that a basketball game has been broadcast in its entirety on a network will materialize on Washington's Birthday when CBS will send out a two-hour description of the Army-Navy contest.

State Department Holds Aloof from Attack on Japanese

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP) — The state department pointedly held aloof today from anti-Japanese criticism in a Congress where advocates of a stronger army and navy are demanding quick action to bolster national defenses.

Soon after Senator Pittman (D., Nev.) had charged and Japanese spokesmen had denied that Japan's policy is a threat to American interests, Secretary Hull stressed that his department was not responsible for the Pittman speech in which the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee advocated increased naval and air strength.

"There has been, as regards his speech, no consultation or collaboration between him and me," Hull told inquiring newspapermen.

Meanwhile House backers of a peacetime record appropriation for the army sought to obtain a vote by tonight. The measure, providing total military expenditure of $238,782,232, including funds to strengthen western defenses, was introduced yesterday. It was not accompanied by criticism of any nation.

Representative Blanton (D., Tex.), who recently returned from a visit to Hawaii, said in opening debate on the bill:

"I want to see enough 16-inch guns on our coast and in our possessions so that if one of these $50,000,000 modern battleships comes within 27 miles of our coast with design against us we could blow it out of the sea—and that's what we expect to do."

"Why, we'll never have to shoot one. The mere knowledge by other nations that we have those guns will mean we won't have to use them."

Taking cognizance of Senator Pittman's assertion that Japan intends to close the door of China on America "even if war is necessary to accomplish it," Ambassador Hiroto Saito declared his country has "no intention of closing the door of commerce in China to the United States or any other nation."

The envoy laughed when newsmen told him of a speech by Senator Lewis (D., Ill.) predicting a Russo-Japanese alliance to control Asia and her Americans.

Now Face Death

The state of Kentucky was believed prepared to ask the deaths of James C. Morris (top), notorious gang leader, and Clarence Crawford (below) after their dash for freedom with eight others from the state reformatory. Both are charged with armed robbery during their break. All the prisoners were caught. (Associated Press Photo)

Parent-Teacher Associations

Federated Council

The Federated Council celebrated Founders' Day at the monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon, February 5. Mrs. W. R. Anderson presented a short sketch of the life of Mrs. Mears, a former president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, to whose memory the nation-wide Founders' Day programs are dedicated this year. Mrs. Mears grew up in an atmosphere of culture, public service and sincere religious training. Her entire adult life was one of service and it was said of her that she not only made new friends easily, but kept her old ones. Her death the past year has been a great sorrow to a host of people interested in child welfare, but her charm, beauty and self-service will serve as an inspiration for many years to come.

Seven candles were lighted in memory of past presidents, then the large birthday cake was cut and served by Mrs. Anderson. A collection was taken to be sent to the national committee for extension work.

A membership report was given of the following schools: No. 5, 163 members; No. 6, 229 members, No. 7, 228 members; No. 8, 122 members.

The first meeting of the Child Study Club, under Dr. Peabody, will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Friday, February 14, at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in attending is requested to get in touch with Mrs. John Roosa, parent education chairman.

Each president of the various units is asked to have the press book of her unit at the next meeting. The following flashes from the State and National P.T.A. News were then given. Colorado P.T.A. during the past year, sponsored 85 classes in literacy and citizenship and have enrolled 2,000 students from 28 nations. Already, 500 of these have become citizens and 800 are candidates. Upon entering classes 265 could neither read nor write in any language. This number has been reduced to 116. The P.T.A.'s also conduct classes in music, drama, art, literature, creative writing, physical education, nursery schools, parent education, transient camp work, trade and industries, commercial subjects, agriculture, home economics, college extension and other subjects for which there is a demand. Washington has caused 100 posters 18 in. x 24 in., symbolizing "protection for Every Child Everywhere," to be placed at vantage points throughout that state as part of the program of their publicity committee. Nashville, Tenn., P.T.A. Council is cooperating with the WPA in a work project giving employment to a large number of women and benefitting about 1,000 underprivileged children who are prevented from attending school by lack of clothing.

Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, president of the National Congress, has been named as one of Chicago's 10 outstanding women, acclaimed for notable achievements in literature, social service, politics and business. The National Congress broadcasts over WJZ from 2:30 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays as follows:

February 12—"Indoorization: What Does It Mean?" Speaker, Charles H. Judd, University of Chicago. February 19—"The Doctor's Relation to the Home" Speaker, Dr. C. A. Aldrich of Chicago. February 26—"Critical Appreciation of Motion Pictures" Speaker, Edgar Dale, Ohio State University.

The Maryland State Congress broadcasts every Wednesday at 4:45 p.m. over Station WRAL Chairman told of their work and would appreciate comments from those interested in.

Ruby P.T.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ruby P.T.A. will be held Thursday, February 12, at 8 p.m. A very interesting program has been prepared. All are invited to attend.

Fisherman Crawls 7 Miles Over Ice In Lake

While the Atlantic seaboard held its breath as continued cold was predicted generally.

For many sections of the eastern coast more snow was forecast tomorrow.

Corn belt states had slightly warmer weather and bright sunshiny yesterday, which enabled thousands to shovel railroad rights of way and main roads to normality. The spectre of want remained in many isolated sections. Coal was rationed in places by the sack, in others by the ton. Milk and food shortage continued. Feed was distributed in some states for birds and game.

Many persons remained marooned in isolated places.

Troy, Ill., a mining community of 400 without a resident physician, was under a county quarantine after an epidemic of scarlet fever, whooping cough, pink eye and mumps.

Three factories in Freeport, Ill., were forced by lack of coal to close, throwing 1,000 men out of work.

Additional deaths reported yesterday included five in Illinois, two in Indiana and two in Michigan.

The northern Black Hills in South Dakota remained isolated by huge drifts. Two mountain towns Marcus and Herford, each with 200 population, had been unheard from for a week, and twenty men set out from Rapid City in ten trucks to break through.

Fuel shortages grew worse in Burke and Fairfax, S. D. Families "doubled up" to stretch the remaining supply.

Forty per cent of Chicago's milk supply was cut off today, and dealers said they had no more than required for "necessities." No milk shipments had been received from Wisconsin since Friday.

Snow plows bucked through miles of drifts to rescue 30 men and women marooned since Saturday in a farm house near Sycamore, Ill., only to find the refugees gorged on pastry, meat, beer and soft drinks from four trucks isolated with the party.

Fish and Game Club Asks Country Folk To Help Feed Birds

The Ulster County Fish and Game Association urges everybody to feed the birds this cold weather. Pheasants are particularly hard hit as they are ground feeders and are having a very difficult time in getting enough to eat.

"If there are pheasants near you, won't you please clear the snow away and build a little shelter and feed these hungry birds. The association will furnish the feed if you will put it out. Just communicate with whoever is nearest to you in the following list for feed," it was asked today:

E. J. Whiffen, Stone Ridge.
Howard Van Winkle, Stone Ridge.
E. H. Angell, Hurley.
Claude Bell, West Shokan.
Rudolph DeSilva, Bolceville.
Alonzo Davis, Olive Bridge.
Victor Spinneweber, Port Ewen.
Nelson W. Snyder, Kingston.
Henry Swart, Kingston.
W. M. Mills, Kingston.

Some of the members as well as other friends of the birds make a practice of feeding, and we are very grateful to them, but there are many birds in the county that are not getting nearly enough to eat and everyone is urged to help.

The association wishes to apologize to its members who have sent in their 1935 dues, for the delay in sending receipts. These receipts are held up pending arrival of the 1936 membership buttons which are expected daily.

FREEZING WEATHER CRIPPLES FIRE ENGINE

Even fire engines were affected as cold tightened its grip on the nation, halting and slowing down traffic and choking rivers and bays with ice. Here is a fire engine that became coated with ice as firemen battled a church fire in Chicago. Pumping apparatus of the machine was frozen and it was necessary to thaw it out to restore the vehicle to usefulness. (Associated Press Photo)

Sheriff Unsnarls Traffic Tangle

Monday afternoon about 4:10 o'clock Sheriff Molynex received a call from High Falls. It was reported that there had been an automobile accident and that the cars involved were still in the highway obstructing traffic while the drivers argued as to who was right. A long line of cars and the bus line was held up.

When the sheriff arrived at the scene which was between the bridge and the village, he found a Chevrolet truck operated by Charles Cole of Saugerties which had been bound toward Stone Ridge and a Studebaker car owned by Fred Weeks of Lake Mohonk and driven by Frank Schramm en route toward High Falls had been in collision. After an investigation the sheriff decided that the Schramm car had struck the truck near the rear and almost knocked the rear wheels from the truck. Irene Kuhlman, who had been riding in the truck with Cole, was cut about the forehead and nose where she had come in contact with the windshield.

The road was cleared to traffic and apparently the operators of the cars came to some agreement as no arrest was made.

Cars in Collision In Town of Ulster

Jaller Clayton W. Vredenburg was called to Yarmouth avenue, town of Ulster, Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock where a car of Claude J. Marke and one owned by Wilbur J. Van Valkenburg and driven by his wife, Maude Van Valkenburg, had been in collision. Marke, of 224 Main street, Kingston, driving a Chevrolet sedan, was proceeding out of Harwich street toward Yarmouth street. Maude Van Valkenburg of Yarmouth street was driving from her home out to Harwich street on her way to Albany avenue. The accident happened near the corner of Yarmouth and Harwich street. Mrs. Van Valkenburg was operating a Pontiac coach.

The left front fender and bumper of the Marke car and the left side and front fender and running board of the Van Valkenburg car were damaged by the impact. The damage to both cars was slight.

Following the accident Mr. Marke had Mrs. Van Valkenburg arrested on a reckless driving charge and she was taken before Justice of the Peace Walter Webber of the town of Ulster. However after arriving at the judge's they came to an agreement and Mr. Marke withdrew the charge. Both agreed to make their own repairs according to the report of the accident which was filed. No one was injured.

ERB Closed Wednesday. In accordance with state regulations the Emergency Relief Bureau will be closed Wednesday, which is Lincoln's birthday and a legal holiday.

'PLANNED GENIUS'Sheriff Aids Veterans With Fingerprinting

Sheriff Abram F. Molynex is offering the facilities of his fingerprinting department to veterans in filing their adjusted service certificates. This assistance will be greatly appreciated by veterans who find it more convenient to call at the court house instead of at police headquarters where the finger-printing service of that department is also open to veterans.

Any veteran desiring to have prints taken will find the sheriff's office ready and willing to render that service at any time after 4 o'clock in the afternoon. While the finger-print department is open throughout the day it is being used to a considerable extent by the sheriff for official business and also by the Ulster county pistol permit bureau during the day and as a matter of convenience veterans are requested to come after 4 o'clock if possible.

In offering the services of his office to veterans Sheriff Molynex is keeping in line with the suggestion made by the New York State Sheriffs' Association, that sheriffs do all possible to aid the veterans in filing "bonus" blanks.

This morning Sheriff Molynex stated that his office had fingerprinted a number of veterans and offered to any veteran desiring assistance in filing "bonus" applications his finger-printing department free of charge.

Veil of Secrecy

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 11 (P)—Rain and fog helped the navy maintain its veil of secrecy over a five-day battle problem off the Southern California coast. Operating under greater secrecy than ever before imposed on training maneuvers of the fleet, the 68 fighting ships moved off to maneuver yesterday. It was believed that instead of dividing into rival forces, the fleet would operate as a single high seas unit under Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commander-in-chief. No hint of the problem involved was made public.

Vidal's Criticism.

Washington, Feb. 11 (P)—Enrique L. Vidal, director of the commerce department's aviation bureau, acknowledged yesterday by the Senate's aviation investigating committee, "Our ground aids to aviation are obsolescent." He made this comment when reporters asked him about criticism of the department's ground facilities, heard yesterday by the Senate's aviation investigating committee.

"I agree with most of it," Vidal said, but he added that he did not concur with any statement that the bureau personnel was negligent.

If as much capital were put into business expansion as is used for speculation in business securities everything would soon be liquidated.
